GOOD TO KNOW

NFC technology means “Near Field Communication”. Quite simply, this means that communication is possible between two elements that are close together.

This innovative radio standard for wireless data transmission enables you to write and program the T-Loc "NFC catch" systainer® quite simply with an NFC-capable, mobile terminal and third-party software of your choice. This gives you numerous options for labelling and assigning your systainer® and linking it on the Internet. The integrated NFC chip in the catch makes it possible!
